Germany and Canada.

Letter to the London Times
By J. S. Mills

Sir,—I have no desire to work up any fictitious alarms, but may I point out that since my last letter to The Times the question of German-Canadian relations has been up for discussion in the Reichstag? It was introduced by Dr. Stresemann, who is president of the Association of Saxon Manufacturers and of the recently-established German Canadian Economic Association. He recalled how, despite the attitude assumed some years ago by Germany, other British colonies have followed the example of Canada and given preference to the home country. Germany had to deal, he said, with the resulting situation. The German people desired that in the future economic development of Canada their country should take such a part as corresponded with its industrial capabilities. Dr. Stresemann elicited an interesting reply from Dr. von Bethmann Hollweg, the German Home Secretary:—"Our relations with Canada," he said, "have formed for some time past the object of our earnest attention." On the part of Germany there is no hindrance to the bringing about of an understanding which will permit the entry of the products of each land into the other under favourable conditions. So far the steps taken for this purpose have led to no result. I cherish, however, the hope that once again the Canadian market will be made accessible to Germany and the German to Canada." ["Canadian Gazette."]

Fiscal reforms do not complain that Germany should negotiate with Canada. Their complaint is that the country under a Liberal regime, refuses to negotiate with the Dominion, though again and again invited to do so, and though the issue involved are of the most vital importance. We are entering upon a severe naval competition with Germany. Economic power is what will tell in the long run in that struggle. If we permit Germany to forestall us in negotiating a trade arrangement with this great group of British colonies, we shall give her an advantage which will be the equivalent of many Dreadnoughts. This will be perhaps the largest-sized blunder that even England has committed in the course of her imperial history. Germany, we may be sure, appreciated the situation in England and will do her utmost to come to terms with Canada before the Liberals fall from power. The next few months, indeed, are likely to decide whether the country is to maintain and develop its preferences in the Canadian ports, or to allow Germany and other Powers finally to deprive us of most of their actual and potential value. The responsibility for the decision must rest entirely with the Liberal Government. The omens are certainly not favourable, and it looks as though we may still have to pay the heaviest price of all for the "inaccessible postulates" of the free-importing faith.

Yours Faithfully,
J. SAXON MILLS.

A Pleasing Feature.

Here is one of the milder and more pleasing features of the present campaign, which, strenuous as it has been in parts of the country, has, fortunately, been lacking in bitterness.

Hon. C. W. Fisher, the Liberal candidate for Cochrane, the Liberal Conservative opponent, are very good personal friends.

Last week each learned that the other was planning to take a little run through the Jumping Pond country, so they sat down quietly and arranged that they should go together. And together they went, holding joint meetings, and neither taking advantage of the other.

The climax of comradeship was reached on Thursday night, when the candidates had to share the same bed. Yesterday they drove into the city in the same automobile.

Dr. Brett complains that Mr. Fisher took more than his share of the bed, and Mr. Fisher replies that as he represents the larger number of voters, as will be shown on Monday, he should have the greater part of the bed.

In these days of bitter personal political battles, the Cochrane campaign yields a pleasing and mellow light.—Albertan.

Expect War Declaration

Berlin, March 24.—A declaration of war between Austro-Hungary and Serbia is expected on Saturday. The utter failure to accept the English proposal for an adjudication of the Bosnian dispute seems to have made war inevitable and to-night all the European powers are preparing for the expected hostilities. The news of the war declaration came suddenly to-night, for all day dispatches from Serbia had been reporting a most pacific tone in the national assembly at Belgrade, where Premier Noakovitch went so far as to make a conciliatory speech.

London, March 24.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Government gratefully accepted New Zealand's offer of two battleships of the Dreadnought type.

Mr. Motter and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Spare, arrived this week from Missouri. Mr. Motter has been spending some time visiting there and Mr. Spare, who came up with him, is going to take charge of the D. K. Ranch for Messrs Motter Bros.

This district has been formed into a new Presbyterian Church charge and the Rev. Mr. Lynde, of Gleichen, has been appointed to take charge. He will be assisted by Mr. Taylor, a student, who will conduct the first service in Crossfield and Aldridge on Sunday April 4th at the usual hour.

Big changes may be looked for in town within the next few months. The Canadian Bank of Commerce have purchased the site next to the Alberta Hotel at present occupied by D. A. MacCrimmon's office, the barber-shop and Mr. Parker's livery. They intend to erect a substantial bank building on this site.

Mr. Parker has secured the lot on which Mr. Jones' house stood and will erect a new livery barn there.

On Friday night Mr. Greenwood, Dr. Brett and Mr. Fisher held a joint meeting in Crossfield. The attendance was good and political issues were fully dealt with by the rival candidates. The utmost good-will prevailed throughout the proceedings.

At Aldridge on Saturday night a joint meeting was also held. Both the candidates spoke and both were well received.

Election Results.

As far as we can obtain the returns the following is a correct record of the result of the polls in this constituency last Monday:—

	Fisher	Brett.
Cochrane	132	77
Crossfield	85	51
Aldridge	55	31
Lochend	36	5
Beaverdam	54	15
West Hope	36	2
Atkin School	49	28
Dog Pound	58	7
Brushy Ridge	12	13
Jumping Pond	30	13
Morley	18	6
Kananaskis	5	3
Estevan	40	10

The new house will be composed of:—

Liberals 34
Conservatives 8
Socialist 1

High River seat remains in doubt yet and two elections are deferred.

The return of the Hon. Mr. Cushing and R. B. Bennett in Calgary appears to have been generally looked for although it meant the election of a liberal and conservative member.

Otokos and Red Deer return Conservatives, while the Rocky Mountains return the Socialist.

Many will feel sorry to hear that Mr. Duncan Sinclair of the Union Bank has been transferred to Lethbridge branch. "Dunc" was very popular here and we shall miss him. At the same time we welcome his successor, Mr. Boyle, of Calgary, to our midst.

A very well known Bachelor of our neighborhood, wedged a year ago, that he would still be eligible to serve on Committee of Bachelors on the occasion of their Annual Ball, he won out alright. Now he wagers heavily, that before another year rolls around he will be in the Benedict class; the affair is being watched with considerable interest, and may give rise to numerous side bets. "Samuel beware of the widder!"—Pickwick Papers.

Robert Chapman, the local builder and contractor, has secured the contract for the erection of a fire-hall and council chambers. The site chosen is near to the R. N. W. M. P. Barracks. As soon as the new fire-hall is completed, the engine will be installed here. These are considered very necessary for the safeguarding of the town in the event of fire occurring.

Doctor Changed His Mind

In the year 1890, 18 years ago, Mrs. G. S. Ganser, of Belle Island, N. S., was in a sad condition. All her relatives had died of consumption, and there was every indication that she was going the same way. This was aggravated by an attack of Kidney Trouble.

At this point her husband suggested PSYCHINE. The doctor who attended said PSYCHINE was worthless; but it effected a wonderful cure. Eighteen Years After in a letter dated August 14, 1908, Mrs. Ganser says: "I am better than I have been for years. My lungs have not troubled me since I took your treatment. My physician told me I could not take a better tonic than PSYCHINE, and I recommend it to all who are suffering from Lung Trouble and General Debility."

Psychine is the greatest of Tonics giving Health and Energy, and should be in every home. It should always be used for Colds, Loss of Appetite, Weariness, etc. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, etc., and $1.00.

Write Dr. Slocum, Limited, Spadina Ave., Toronto, for a free trial of Psychine, and mention this advertisement.

So Was Mother.

Even if there had not been kernels of rice on her hat and a glad light of love in her eye, any husband could have told that she was a bride. And the manner in which she spoke to her husband showed they had not been married long. A man in the passing crowd spied the couple and rushed over to meet the bride.

"Well, well, Agnes," he cried, extending his hand, "you don't mean to say that you're married?"

"Why—why, yes," the girl stammered, vivid color mounting to her cheeks as she tried to defend her novel situation.

"And it runs in the family. Mother was married, too."

It is easier to prevent than it is to cure. Inflammation of the lungs is the companion of colds, and once it finds a lodgement in the chest it is difficult to deal with. Treatment with Bickel's Anticongestive Syrup will eradicate the cold and prevent inflammation from setting in. It costs little, and is as satisfactory as it is surprising in its results.

Not Always Boys.

The old gentleman who was always declaring that boys were not what they used to be stopped in front of the smart child.

"Well, Johnny," greeted the old gentleman, "how are you today?"

"Very well, sir," responded the smart child, shyly.

"And do you ever think what you are going to do when you are a great big man?"

"No, sir."

"Ah, I know it. Children are so shiftless these times. And why don't you give it any thought?"

"Because I am a little girl, sir."

And the last seen of the inquisitive old gentleman he was making long strides down the street.

"I can truthfully say that I believe that, but for the use of your Emulsion I would long since have been in my grave. I was past-work—could not walk up-hill without coughing very hard."

A Reflection.

"The late Senator Allison," said a Dubuque lawyer, according to the New York Tribune, "was a stickler for personal cleanliness, even for personal elegance. There was no quicker way for a man to get on his black books than to be unshaved, to have the trousers unpresented, the boots unpainted."

"We used to have here in Dubuque a decidedly slovenly lawyer. This fellow appeared one afternoon at a meeting with a rose in his buttonhole. The sight of a rose in the buttonhole of such a sloven excited a good deal of comment."

"I wonder where on earth he got it?" said I.

"Senator Allison smiled."

"Probably," said he, "it grew there."

"That looks like a newly-made grave—that little hummock over there on the desert," said the traveler from the east.

"That's just what it is, neighbor," answered Arizona. "The late Senator the Weekly Cactus Spine was buried over there last week."

"What was his complaint?"

"He didn't have none. It was Cozyote Cal that had the complaint. You see, there was a baby born up to Cal's house a spell ago, and the editor wrote an item about it, sayin' a two-headed little girl had come to make Cal and his woman happy, but it 'pears that the printer got the letters mixed somehow. Leastways it said in the paper when Cal read it that it was a two-headed baby, and him bein' an impulsive fellow, there wasn't no time to do but hold the funeral the next day but one."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The First Peer of the Realm.

Dr. Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury and first peer of the realm, who had such a large hand in killing the Education Bill, was confidential friend and adviser to Queen Victoria for twenty years. The story is told that he was honored with such a confidence, and kept it so long, is an open proof of his tact, shrewdness, and common sense. Indeed, it would be no compliment to say that he has never made a mistake. He is certainly a marvellous gift of "not putting his foot into it." Owing to the effects of gun aches he was confined for months on nothing but milk foods. Like the Bishop of Ripon, Dr. Davidson has never taken kindly to gallop. He is a man of inexpensive tastes, and when the head of the diocese of Rochester was a constant patron of omnibuses and trams.

Professional Opinion.

"Well, is there anything new, novel or interesting?" inquires our friend the theatrical manager as we enter his neatly but not gaudily appointed office.

"Nothing much," we reply, "except that a new star has been discovered," referring, of course, to the new planet that has been found somewhere the other side of Neptune.

"No star?" he asks, "How's that?"

"It's a new star, but it is so far away they can't see it."

"Humph! Another of those Shakespearean actors, I suppose."

A Lovers Escue.

"A French sentinel in Algeria," said a playwright, "had for his colour a very tall lanky, round shouldered man. This round shouldered colour one night was making a quiet inspection. Passing the sentinel, he focused to his rage and indignation, that he was not challenged, so he returned to the man and roared:

"You didn't challenge me!"

"No, sir," faltered the sentinel, as usual.

"Well, why didn't you?" the colour demanded.

"Excuse me, sir," said the sentinel, "but I thought—I beg your pardon, sir—I thought you was a camel."

TRY THIS FOR YOUR COUGH

Mix two ounces of Glycerine with a half ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and a half pint of straight Whisky. Shake well, and take in doses of a teaspoonful every four hours. This mixture possesses all the healing, healthful properties of the Pines, and will break a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable. In having this mixture put up, be sure that your drugist use the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, prepared and guaranteed only by the Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont.

It Wasn't.

The play was not by any means brilliant, and obviously the man was bored. Suddenly he leaped to his feet.

"I heard an alarm of fire," he said.

"I must go and see where it is," said his wife, whose hearing was less acute, made time for him in silence, and he disappeared.

"It wasn't fire after all," he said, on his return.

"Nor water either," said the wife.

THE TRUE CAUSE OF RHEUMATISM

Caused by Uric Acid in Blood and Can Only be Cured Through the Blood.

Not many years ago doctors thought rheumatism was only a local pain caused by exposure to cold or wet. Now they know that rheumatism is caused by the blood becoming tainted with uric acid. This acid contracts the muscles, stiffens the joints and irritates the nerves. Then the cold and wet make the joints and muscles grow with aching rheumatism. You blame the weather but the real cause is acid in the blood. If not properly treated the stiffness spreads and the pain grows worse each year until you are a helpless cripple.

If the disease touches the heart it means sudden death. You can't cure rheumatism with liniments, plasters or hot cloths. You must go to the root of the trouble in the blood. The one sure scientific way to cure rheumatism is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because they actually make new blood.

They sweep out the poisonous acid, loosen the joints and muscles, and bring back the blood to its normal state.

Mr. Fred. Babau, Canada Creek, S. B., says: "Three years ago I was taken with a severe pain in my right hip. It grew gradually worse until I was unable to stand on my right hip. The pain was really almost unbearable. At first I tried foot drafts and liniments, but this gave me only the most temporary relief, and I felt as if I was to go through the rest of my life in this crippled state."

A neighbor whose daughter had been cured of rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advised me to try this medicine, and I purchased three boxes.

Before they were all gone I was able to get about on my feet, my knee and untie my shoe, something I had not been able to do for two years, and I began to feel like a new man.

I found a medicine to cure the trouble. I kept on taking the Pills until I had used three dozen boxes, when I was completely cured and I am as well and strong today as ever I was in my life. I would not hesitate to know that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is a sure cure for rheumatism, and that if they will give this medicine to fair trial, their pains and aches will disappear as mine did."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Valuable Asset.

Dr. William A. White, superintendent of the Government Hospital for the Insane near Washington, was walking about the asylum grounds one day when he met a "trient."

"Doctor," said the insane man, "how many crazy folks are there here any more?"

"A great many," the doctor replied, "two or three thousand."

"Doctor," continued the questioner, "you have a hard time making a live of it if it wasn't for us, wouldn't you?"—Cleveland Leader.

Just Like His Better Half.

"Old John Weatherly thinks a lot of his gun, don't he?" drawled one of the loungers in the back of the crossroads store.

"Pats it as affectionate as a cat," said the old woman.

"Yes," laughed the storekeeper as he brushed up the primer, "and Josh says it reminds him of the old woman."

"In what way?"

"Always kicking and hard to handle,"—Chicago News.

The Limit.

"Carson's the most absentminded chap I ever saw."

"What's he been doing now?"

"This morning he thought he'd left his watch at home and then proceeded to take it out of his pocket to see if he had time to an home and get it."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Erratic Science.

"Mushrooms always grow in damp places, and so they look like umbrellas," wrote a small boy in the science examination. Other examples of the "howler" are compiled by a writer in the Scientific American.

"Air is the most necessary of all the elements. If there were no such thing as air I couldn't be writing this essay now, also there would be no pneumatic tires, which would be a sad loss."

"Electricity and lightning are of the same nature, the only difference being that lightning is often several miles in length, while electricity is only a few inches."

"Air usually has no weight, but found to weigh about fifteen pounds to a square inch."

"The axis of the earth is an imaginary line on which the earth is supposed to take its daily routine."

"The difference between air and water is that air can be male water, but water cannot."

"Gravity is chiefly noticeable in the Autumn when the apples are falling from the trees."

"Things which are equal to each other are equal to anything else."

"The parallel lines of life is one which if produced to meet itself does not meet."

"Electricity is putrefied in the lungs by inspired air."

The cheapness of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator puts it within reach of all, and it can be got at any druggist's.

"Officer," said the whimsical tourist to the big, strapping policeman who had saved him from being run over by an automobile, "you remind me of a character in one of Kipling's stories. You've heard of Kipling?"

"Kip King?" said Officer Hoogan.

"Sure! He runs a Chinese laundry in San Francisco, where I live. Trot along, sonny,"—Chicago Tribune.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

A Missionary Hero.

There is just about a return to the Far East a man who has probably done more single-handed for the general enlightenment and education of the Chinese than any band of missionaries. Dr. A. Macdonald Westwater, who has been called The Saviour of Liao-yang, came home for a short holiday after twenty-seven years of arduous labor in the Far East, and is now returning again.

All the horrors of war, pestilence, and famine have been experienced by him many times over.

When in 1858 a terrible flood devastated the Liao-yang district, Dr. Westwater was instrumental in affording relief to 20,000 people, while, when the Boxer rebellion broke out eight years ago, and the Russians decided to bombard the town, on account of the reckless firing of some fanatic, Dr. Westwater undertook to ride into the city, seek out the authorities, and secure the surrender of the city.

Importations Increase.

In forty years importations have increased by no less an amount than $300,000,000; dutiable goods increased from $45,250,288 to $230,917,914, and free goods from $23,314,102 to $315,380.

Once more the increase is most gratifying, as in two years it has been $54,000,000 in dutiable goods and $25,000,000 in free goods.

From Montreal alone we find an increase last year compared with the year 1900 of very much, it is true, but still large enough to be noticeable.

The record to March 31, was the second largest for the year in 22 years.

Turning to manufactures, although the precise figures are not just now available, it is agreeable to know from reliable sources that the increase during the past year must have been considerable.

The Origin of the Postage Stamp

It is but a little over a quarter of a century ago since the postage-stamp came into use, and its origin is an interesting one. It happened in this way.
Rowland Hill, the young man who is the inventor of the system, while crossing a district in the north of England, arrived at the door of an inn just as a postman had stopped to deliver a letter.

A young girl came out to receive it.
She turned it over and over in her hand and asked the price of the postage. This was a large sum, and evidently the girl was poor, for the postman demanded a shilling. She sighed sadly, and said the letter was from her brother, but that she had no money and so the letter was returned to the postman.

Touched with pity, Hill paid the postage and gave the letter to the girl, who seemed greatly embarrassed.
Scarcely had the postman turned his back when the girl confessed that it was a trick between her and her brother.
Some signs on the envelope told her all she wanted to know, but the letter contained no writing.

"We are both so poor," she added,
"that we invented this mode of corresponding without paying for our letters."
Hill continued his journey, but all the way along his road he kept asking himself if a system giving place to such transactions was not a viable one. And before sunset Rowland Hill had planned to organize the postal service on a new basis, with what success I have no need to tell you.—Youth's World.

He Got The Job.

In case you were an applicant for a position and the letter of application had to be sent by mail and the postage stamp mucilage was so bad that it would "not take" and you had no other mucilage with which to attach the stamp to the envelope and no other stamp, what would you do?

A genius has received an appointment as a result of practically settling this question.

The firm which advertised got an application from a man and the envelope bore on the right hand upper corner, the postage stamp of the Dominion with His Majesty's face upon it.

Through the stamp and envelope was a rusty pin and it, with the stamp, carried the letter to its destination.
He got the job.

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW HE TREATS RHEUMATIC PATIENTS

A Distinguished Specialist Gives Valuable Advice.

In the first place I always impress upon my patients the importance of careful living and regular habits.
Moderation in eating, keeping the feet dry and wearing plenty of warm clothing are some of the precautions.
No amount of medicine will cure,
or even help, unless attention is paid to these few simple rules.

I have had perfect results where patients followed these instructions, assisted by the following blood tonic and rheumatic specific: Fluid Extract Cascara, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract
Carranza Compound, 1 oz.; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 6 oz. Dose: One teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

It is advisable to drink plenty of water during the treatment.
A prominent local merchant who has tried this treatment states that it relieves backache, bladder trouble, and urinary troubles almost immediately and has a gentle but thorough action on the kidneys.
We advise all our readers to keep this prescription. The instructions are valuable.

German Schoolboys play Indian The Old Hermit of Cameron's Bluff

GERMAN schoolboys have discovered that one of the most thrilling games is that of "Indian." In many of the playgrounds of Berlin you will see them rigged out in wonderful "redskin" suits and armed with wooden sabers and toy rifles. Bloody battles they have, doubtless enjoying them every bit as much as American boys would. Even the boys' instructors find the play fascinating, and spend much time watching their pupils assume the characters of Indian chiefs.

ONE might suppose a boy would like to build for himself a home in the treetops. But this tale is about a MAN who lives there. Of course, he is a very wise man, because only the wisest people know what fun can be had among the tree branches.

Many years ago this wise man found that the companionship of people was often very tiresome. He could be better friends, he knew, with the birds, the of the tree. Here, upon a platform just big enough for a box of books, a napole and a shelter for a bed, we find our host.

He greets us kindly, does General Hugh Cameron—for that is the name this world knows him by. And then, in reply to our questions, he tells us something about himself. Much can be told for the hermit is 81 years old. He relates stories of the early days of Kansas, before the emigrants came and when the memory of Indian massacres was just beginning to fade; he speaks of his acquaintance with Clay, Webster, Douglass, Horace Greeley; he tells of the stirring days of the Civil War, and of the noble President, Abraham Lincoln. It is like diving into a history book, but much more interesting.

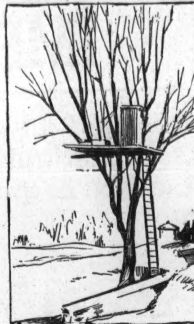

While he is talking we carefully observe the appearance of the old man. His gray hair streams down over his shoulders and his beard (which he has not had trimmed since 1867) is tied in a towel. The faded old blue army coat and the old red toboggan cap he wears, because he doesn't think it important for one to spend too much time on dress.

COMFORTABLE ABODE

Under the hermit's guidance, we now descend the ladder. At the base of the tree he shows us his winter house, which is a sort of shed built against the side of the ravine and exposed on one side. Here he keeps a cook stove and a box for his books. The hermit is a great student, spending much time reading. There is also a zinc-lined box, in which he sleeps in cold weather. Lately himself in with a key, he locks it when he is inside.

But the wise man's hut is not without modern improvements. He lights it by electricity, and has telephone connections. The phone he uses mostly to send messages to his farm, Camp Ben Harrison, which is four miles out of Lawrence, at Cameron's Bluff. Here, by the Kansas river, he spends a part of the summer, tilling the ground (using a team of oxen) and tending to his orchard. All the students at the University of Kansas know him. They call him the "old hermit of Cameron's Bluff."

As the "old hermit" courteously bade us goodbye, we wondered why other people aren't wise enough to see that living in the treetops is one of the nicest ways to live.

THE HOUSE IN THE TREE

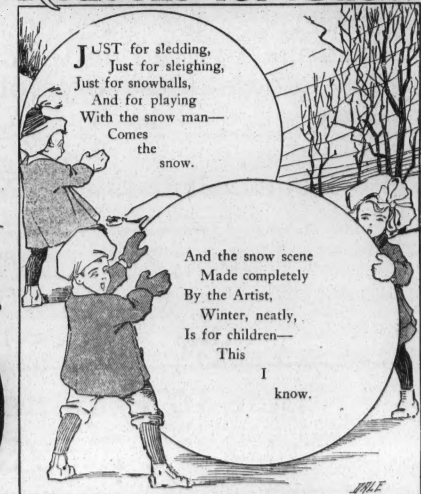

trees, the flowers—the growing things of nature. Therefore he became a hermit. Let us suppose it is summer, and that we are on our way to visit the wise man. We are in the town of Lawrence, Kansas. Walking along North Louisiana street, we come to a tract of land, which we proceed to cross. Presently we see before us a ravine, upon the side of which is a great tree—the summer home of the wise man. We should like to be polite and to knock at the door. But we can't, because there isn't any door. So we call out, asking if we will be acceptable as guests. When permission is granted we climb up a ladder that leads to a little platform built in a fork

Our Visitor from Tokio

MR. JAP, from Tokio, has come to visit us. An unfortunate accident while traveling, however, has caused Mr. Jap to reach us in pieces. But it will be a simple matter to put him together so that he will look as spick and span as he does in the picture above. It must be admitted that Mr. Jap's lavishly decorated robe is built upon rather straight and narrow lines. Yet, after you have pasted the different parts of his body upon pasteboard, then cutting them out, and have joined these parts together with pieces of stout paper (the size shown above), you will find the Japanese gentleman to be not as stiff and dignified as might have been expected. For he will nod his head, sent himself, kneel, salute with his arms, and when you have placed a bit of cord through his hat, for a queue, he will dance in a most sprightly fashion. Mr. Jap, I might as well tell you, is a jumping-jack

HORSE COLLARS

Our Stock of HORSE COLLARS is better assorted than ever.

We can fit your horses perfectly for we have fifteen different grades and styles of Horse Collars, sizes from 16 in. to 23 in. Be sure and use a collar that fits your horse's shoulder. We know just what is wanted and we are in a position to give you satisfaction, if you allow us.

Our Prices Are Right.

We have this year added to our Stock HANFORD'S BALSAM OF MYRRH. This Balsam is without doubt the best healer on the market. Being a Liquid it also makes a splendid gall cure for horses shoulders and is better than the Salves, the salves gathers a lot of dirt on the face of the horse collar and it is inclined to hurt the shoulder unless it is watched closely. Try a bottle of this Balsam if these goods are not what we represent them to be we will gladly refund your money on receipt of the empty bottle. Bottles are in three sizes 25c. 50c. and $1.00
